Welcome to the Global Watch Weekly Report

Helena P. Blavatsky can rightly be described as the "mother" of the New Age movement, as well as modern occultism and neo-paganism. Blavatsky was one of the few high ranking women Freemasons and had a decisive role in founding the Theosophical Society, as well as a tremendous influence on the future of the occult after her, and the move towards globalization, especially in religion.

Theosophy (Greek theosophia) means 'god-wisdom' and Blavatsky was a spiritualist who promoted universalism in that she claimed that all religions are attempts by humanity to approach the absolute, and that each religion has a portion of the truth. She claimed that her work was supernaturally given to her directly by spiritually enlightened beings - Masters of wisdom through telepathy. Blavatsky was a 32 degree co-freemason and made no secret in her publication The Secret Doctrine, of the fact that she was a devout Satan worshiper:

"It is Satan who is the God of our planet and the only God." Pages 215, 216, 220, 245, 255, 533 (Volume 1)

"The Celestial Virgin which thus becomes the Mother of Gods and Devils... pages 225, 255 Deity... but in antiquity and reality Lucifer or Luciferius is the name. Lucifer is divine and terrestrial Light, 'the Holy Ghost' and Satan at one and the same time." Page 539

"Lucifer represents..Life.Thought..Progress..Civilization..Liberty..Independence..Lucifer is the Logos..the Serpent, the Savior." Pages 171, 225, 255 (Volume 11)

Blavatsky stated the three aims of the Theosophical Society Doctrine which appear pious but are very deceiving:

- 1. To promote universal brotherhood and world peace, without distinction of race, creed, sex, case, color, or financial status.*
- 2. The study of comparative religions, philosophy and science.*
- 3. To make a systematic investigation of the mystic potencies of men and nature: Investigate the unexplained laws of Nature and the powers latent in man.*

A subsequent addition was made later which was: To destroy Christianity.

In this edition of the Global Watch Weekly we discover how her influence helped to establish the birth of the New Age Movement and the seduction of the Western World with eastern Mysticism.

DAUGHTER OF BABYLON

The New Age Movement has its roots in ancient history, although the revival of New Age as we know it today, is anchored in 1860-1890, in the work of a Russian born Madame Helena Blavatsky (1831- 1891). The crucial role of Helena Blavatsky can best be illustrated with the following quote:

"... Madame Blavatsky ... stands out as the fountainhead of modern occult thought, and was either the originator and/or popularizer of many of the ideas and terms which have a century later been assembled within the New Age Movement. The Theosophical Society, which she cofounded, has been the major advocate of occult philosophy in the West and the single most important avenue of Eastern teaching to the West." (J. Gordon Melton, Jerome Clark and Aidan A. Kelly, editors, New Age Almanac, Detroit, Michigan, Gale Research Inc., 1991, p. 16, quoted in the Blavatsky archives on-line)

Helena Petrovna Hahn Blavatsky, born to a distinguished family in the Ukraine, 1831, was married to Gen. N.P. Blavatsky, but soon deserted him and left Russia. According to the memoirs of her cousin Count Witte, she spent some time in Cairo and Tibet before arriving in New York in 1873. Through a common interest in spiritualism, she became associated with Henry Steel Olcott, an American lawyer and newspaperman and student of spiritualism, in the formation of occult groups, culminating in the sixteen-member Theosophical Society.

In 1877 she published Isis Unveiled, a collection of material from Eastern thought, serpent worship, witchcraft, alchemy, and 19th century science, which she ascribes to her Tibetan masters but which was often taken verbatim from fifty standard works on occult subjects in Henry Olcott's library.

In 1888, Blavatsky formed an esoteric section of the Theosophical Society in London for advanced study of the occult. Eventually this movement spread among the English and Irish literary circles. In Dublin, the Irish Theosophical Society was formed under the leadership of Charles Johnston.

Bejamin Creme writes:

"The externalization of the Hierarchy actually started as far back as 1860. Certain disciples came in, such as H.P. Blavatsky and others, who have been releasing to the world the New Age teachings. I don't mean just the occult teaching. I mean new ideas of philosophy, of politics, of economics, etc." (Frequently Asked Questions, version 9 April 2000, website Indo-Pakistani Maitreya Share International)

"As humanity matures, further aspects of this previously hidden knowledge are released in a wider, more open manner. Throughout the last 100 years, the Ageless Wisdom Teachings have been communicated through individuals such as Helena Blavatsky, founder of the Theosophical Society" (The Ageless Wisdom Teachings - in brief, Humanity's spiritual legacy, ind-Pakistani Maitreya, Share International)

Blavatsky asserted to receive revelations and commands directly from a Spiritual Master, with whom she had telepathic contact and offered herself as a medium to higher (demonic) powers that worked through her. She was used to present to the world a new presentation of the age-old Theosophia

"The accumulated Wisdom of the ages, tested and verified by generations of Seers....," "that body of Truth of which religions are but as branches of the parent tree".

In The Secret Doctrine Blavatsky writes:

"The teachings in these volumes belong neither to the Hindy, the Zoroastrian, the Chaldean, nor to Buddhism, Islam, Judaism, nor Christianity exclusively. The Secret Doctrine is the essence of all these. Sprung from it in their origins, the various religious schemes are now made to merge back into their original element, out of which every mystery and dogma has grown, developed, and become materialized."

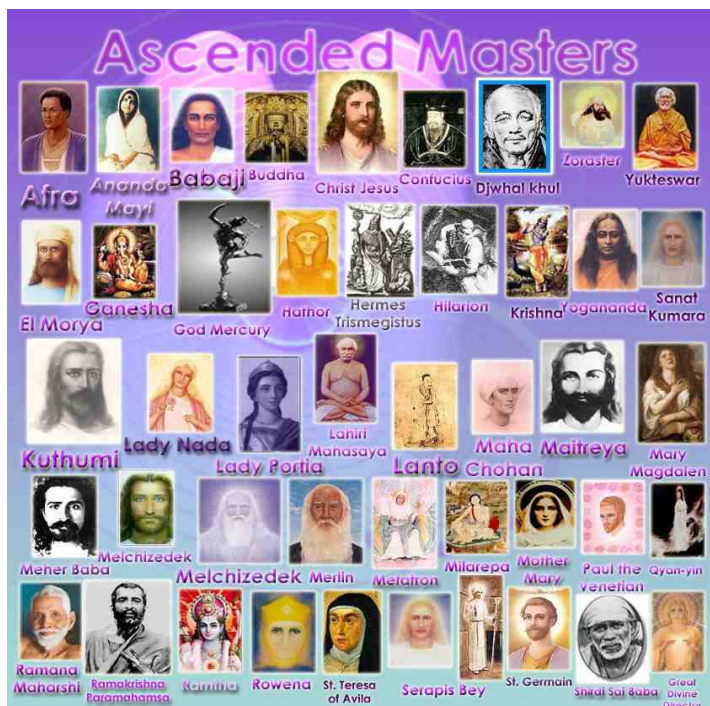

Blavatsky traveled extensively. In the 1850s and 1870s she visited India repeatedly (also visited Kashmir) while undergoing her occult training and she established various contacts there.

DAUGHTER OF BABYLON

It is believed that Ascended Masters are individuals who were formerly embodied on the Earth and learned the lessons of life during their incarnations. They gained mastery over the limitations of the matter planes, (In esoteric cosmology, a plane, other than the physical world is conceived as a subtle state of consciousness that transcends the known physical universe).

An Ascended Master, in such an understanding, has become God-like and a source of unconditional "Divine Love" to all life, and through the Ascension has united with his or her own "God Self," the "I AM Presence."

This is reflected in the New Age writings:

"The Masters of Wisdom, together forming the Spiritual Hierarchy, are the custodians of the Divine Plan for this planet. They have inspired all the great human achievements, working from behind the scenes through their disciples in every field of endeavor" (The Ageless Wisdom Teachings -- in brief, Humanity's spiritual legacy, Share International)

The time wasn't considered ready yet to go public with this doctrine, and her Master instructed her that the doctrine must remain secret for 100 years, time during which only a close circle was to be informed and was to prepare everything:

"In 1922, therefore, he inaugurated the New Group of World Servers, which is the most important group existing in the world, although it has no outer form or organization. Each member of it is related subjectively (i.e. on the inner, soul level) to Hierarchy; they know and understand the Plan and their part in it.

On the outer plane there are two groups: one large group, unaware of their subjective link with Hierarchy and working only under impression from the Masters; the other, a small inner nucleus which works consciously on the outer plane under the direct supervision of the Masters. Made up of men and women of all levels of society, the New Group of World Servers has members in every country in the world, without exception. They are to be found in the educational, political, economic and scientific fields. The New Group of World Servers forms a bridging group between humanity and Hierarchy. It is several million strong today." (Frequently Asked Questions, website Indo-Pakistani Maitreya, Share International)

Shortly after 1975, a century after this whole preparation started, the New Age Movement started to go public. What is New Age? In "New Age Reforms", Prof. J.S. Malan, University of the North, South Africa, writes:

"The New Age objective is ... to unite all religions in an alliance of world religions. In association with demonic doctrines such as evolution, reincarnation, metaphysics, parapsychology, astrology, pantheism and socialism, all faiths and philosophies must revert to their common Luciferian origin. In this way, unity can be achieved in the world and all people's lives be ordered according to the same principles."

The dominant unity syndrome of the New Age Movement is the motivating power behind various actions by a whole network of organisations that all endeavour to create a new, integrated social order on earth, lead by one world government, with one world monetary system.

While visiting the United States, Madame Blavatsky, Mother of the New Age Movement, became very interested in a thing called astral projection otherwise known as "out of body experiences". Helena claimed that during one of those out of body experiences she managed to make contact with disembodied Spiritual Masters, whom she called "Mahatmas". As mentioned previously these so-called Great Masters were supposedly made perfect through many incarnations, many lifetimes, and they lived in Tibet. After having spiritually evolved into perfection they were then able to guide mankind unto the right path. But of course, in reality, Blavatsky was being guided by demonic entities that merely were posing as Spiritual Masters!

Of course, the fact that she claimed to be guided by the Great Masters made the things that Helena had to say seem even more believable to the people who turned to her Theosophical philosophies for guidance. And to top that off, she even performed conjuring magician's tricks, which made her messages still more believable, mysterious, and appealing to the multitudes.

Madame Blavatsky promoted psychic phenomena, including supernatural trance medium exercises, dematerializations and spirit manifestation. Some however, accused her of being a fraud and of using hypnosis on the audiences. There were even reports to the effect that wherever she went the air was full of "Spirit rapping" and "astral bells". The Great Masters were said to be responsible for making these things happen. She even claimed to have been initiated by two of these Masters in Tibet named Koothoomi and Morya.

Helena Blavatsky's book, Isis Unveiled, regarded as the "Bible" for New Ager Spiritualists, was written supposedly under the guidance of a disembodied set of these "Higher Spiritual Beings" that she called "Great Spirits" or "Mahatmas". She was so taken by these Great Masters that eventually she went so far as to even set up an altar for them in her home!

According to the reports of Colonel Olcott, Madame Blavatsky wrote this book of hers while in an altered state of consciousness:

"Her pen would be flying over the page, when she would suddenly stop, look into space with the vacant eye of the clairvoyant seer, shorten her vision as though to look at something held invisibly in the air before her, and begin copying on her paper what she saw. The quotation finished, her eyes would resume their natural expression." - Henry Steele Olcott, "Old Diary Leaves", 1895, Vol. I, pg. 208

These so called Spirit Masters who dictated to Helena what to write were supposedly concerned about guiding mankind on to the right path; and they played a large part in advising her to start the Theosophical Society. They also advised her and Colonel Olcott to begin viewing things in a more "Global" sense and to begin a New World Order.

Madame Helena Blavatsky discovered the drug hashish when she was in Cairo, which of course influenced her writings. She in fact became addicted to this drug. She used the drug to help her contact the spirit world, which was a common practice in ancient pagan times.

To the Argon Theosophical Society, of New York, with H.P.B.'s & H.S.O.'s good wishes London, October, 1888.

In Ancient Greece, for instance, we see the practice of Spiritualism and the use of drugs in the Greek Oracles at Delphi. Many of the gods that were worshipped by the Greeks were thought to be the dead who had evolved into godhood, and who thus were able to give them advice and counsel in their own quest toward godhood.

DAUGHTER OF BABYLON

In other words, the Greeks endeavoured to communicate with the "Star Gods" or the Great Masters who supposedly were the highly evolved and deified spirits of the dead!

Before the Priestess would convey the messages from the Spirit World, she first had to chew upon hallucinogenic leaves or be surrounded by trance - inducing vapors to put her into an altered state of consciousness. Thus we see time and time again that in the Mystery Religions of Ancient Egypt, Greece and Babylon, the objective was always the same- to put oneself into a hypnotic trance, become possessed by the spirits, then to commune with the gods, which in reality were Demons!

Manly P. Hall, the occult writer, tells how Blavatsky knew just what to use the drugs for:

"Egyptian priests discovered herb extracts by means of which temporary clairvoyance could be induced, and they made use of these during the initiatory rituals of their mysteries. Shortly after the drugs were administered to him, the neophyte was attacked by a spell of dizziness. He found himself floating through space, and while his physical body was absolutely insensible (being guarded by priests that no ill should befall it) the candidate passed through a number of weird experiences, which he was able to relate after regaining consciousness.....In light of present day knowledge, it is difficult to appreciate an art so highly developed that by means of draughts, perfumes, and incenses, the mental attitude desired could be induced almost instantaneously, yet such an art actually existed among the priestcraft of the early pagan world..."

Blavatsky also wrote:

"plants also have like mystical properties in a most wonderful degree, and the secrets of the herbs of dreams and enchantments are only lost to European science, and useless to say, too, are unknown to it, except in a few marked instances, such as opium and hashish. Yet, the physical effects of even these few that open the human system are regarded as evidences of a temporary mental disorder.

"The women of Thessaly and Epirus, the female heirophants of the rites of Sabazius, did not carry their secrets away with the downfall of their sanctuaries. They are still preserved, and those who are aware of the nature of soma (a plant whose juices induce a hypnotic trance-like state) know the properties of other plants as well.' (from Blavatsky's book: Isis Unveiled).

Herbal compounds were used to cause temporary clairvoyance in connection with the oracles, especially the one at Delphi. Words spoken while in these imposed trances were regarded as prophetic. Modern mediums, while under control as the result of partly self-imposed catalepsy, give messages somewhat similar to those of the ancient prophets, but in the majority of cases their results are far less accurate, for the soothsayers of today lack the knowledge of nature's hidden forces.

"The Mysteries taught that during the higher degrees of initiation the gods themselves took part in the instruction of candidates or at least were present, which was in itself a benediction. As the deities dwelt in the invisible worlds and came only in their spiritual bodies, it was impossible for the neophyte to cognize them without the assistance of drugs which stimulated the clairvoyant center of his consciousness. Many initiates in the ancient Mysteries stated emphatically that they had conversed with the immortals and had beheld the gods." Secret Teachings of all Ages, Manly P. Hall, pg. CXII

In Spiritualism, different methods are used to induce a trance-like state, otherwise known as altered states of consciousness for the purpose of making the Spirit Medium vulnerable to the spirit world, that they might receive messages from the "other side". Followers of the New Age Religion apply several methods, such as hypnosis, drumming, biofeedback, Eastern Meditation, and visualization, to put them into this same trance state, for the purpose of contacting the spirit world!

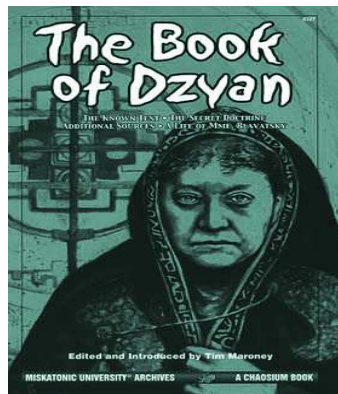

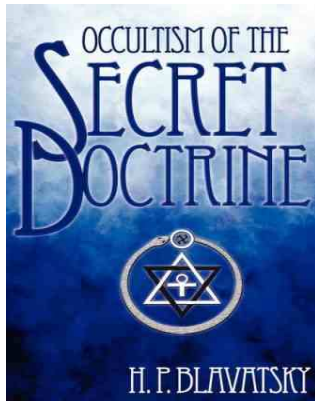

Communism, Nazism, secular humanism, Perestroika and many other modern movements all have common ground with Madam Blavatsky. Marilyn Ferguson's The Aquarian Conspiracy is considered another "Bible" of the New Age Movement and actress Shirley McLain was one of its chief ministers.

Other prominent "New Age" writers over the last century include Alice Bailey, Benjamin Crème and David Spangler.

DAUGHTER OF BABYLON

The most striking aspect of her writings in the Secret Doctrine is the overt references to Lucifer and her depiction of Jehovah as being the evil one.

“And now it stands proven that Satan, or the Red Fiery Dragon, the “Lord of Phosphorus”, and Lucifer, or “Light-Bearer,” is in us: it is our Mind — our tempter and Redeemer, our intelligent liberator and Saviour from pure animalism. Without this principle — the emanation of the very essence of the pure divine principle (Intelligence), which radiates direct from the Divine mind — we would be surely no better than animals.”

““It is but natural – even from the dead-letter standpoint – to view Satan, the Serpent of Genesis, as the real creator and benefactor, the Father of Spiritual mankind. For it is he who was the “Harbourer of Light,” bright, radiant Lucifer, who opened the eyes of the automation created by Jehovah as alleged; and he who was the first to whisper, “in the day ye eat thereof ye shall be as Elohim knowing good and evil,” can only be regarded in the light of a Savior. An “adversary” to Jehovah the “personating spirit,” he still remains in esoteric truth the ever-loving ‘messenger” (the angel), the seraphim and Cherubim who both knew well, and loved still more, and who conferred on us spiritual, instead of physical immortality”

In summary, Blavatsky’s main contribution to mystical thought was the manner in which she sought to synthesise Eastern and Western philosophy and religion, thereby providing a framework for understanding universal occult teaching.

Her teachings also had a political influence. In 1891 the future Tsar Nicholas II, in the company of the mystic Eurasian scholar Prince Ukhtomsky, visited the headquarters of the Theosophical headquarters at Adyar. Prince Ukhtomsky’s description of the society is revealing:

At the insistence of H.P. Blavatsky, a Russian lady who knew and had seen much, the idea sprang up of the possibility, and even the necessity, of founding a society of theosophists, of searchers for the truth in the broadest sense of the word, for the purpose of enlisting adepts of all creeds and races, of penetrating deeper into the most secret doctrines of oriental religions, of drawing Asiatics into true spiritual communion with educated foreigners in the West, of keeping up secret relations with different high priests, ascetics, magicians, and so on.

From a biblical perspective the Bible makes reference in Revelation 17:1-2,15 to Babylon Mystery Religion represented by a prostitute that has intoxicated the kingdoms of the world with her ideology.

“One of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and said to me, “Come, I will show you the punishment of the great prostitute, who sits by many waters. With her the kings of the earth committed adultery, and the inhabitants of the earth were intoxicated with the wine of her adulteries.....“The waters you saw, where the prostitute sits, are peoples, multitudes, nations and languages”

The Bible’s verdict on this ideological system is pretty damning and points a clear warning that to those that associate with this system of philosophy whose origin goes back to whom the bible calls the red dragon and the adversary.

Bible prophecy teacher Texe Marrs previously made reference to a prominent new age advocate who stated,

“In the last days churches will still cause themselves Baptist, Methodist, Pentecostal, charismatic and such like, but inside the churches new age doctrines will be taught from the pulpit. The congregations will not even know what has happened. The doctrines will not be called new age, they just will be new age.”

This is why the Apostle Paul tells us to put on the whole armour of God to help protect us from the evil snares of deceptive ideologies that seek to come in deceitfully and entangle us.

“Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places. Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand. Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness; And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace; Above all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked. And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God: Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints;” Ephesians 6:11-18
